IMMENZE COMBINATION!

ROBINSON & ELDRED,

AND

SANDS, QUICK & CO,

The most Extensive Menagerie, and the most elegant and chaste

CIRCUS COMPANY.

Hitherto either of these splendid Establishments have alone outrivalled all competition. They are now combined, and both Exhibitions can be enjoyed in all their magnificence and splendor for the same price as was formerly demanded and paid to witness one.

The Company will exhibit at Oxford, on Thursday, the 2d Dec.
Tally Ho, 3d "
Woods's. (Forsyth's old place,) 4th "
Hillsborough, Monday the 6th "
Hayes' Store on Tuesday the 7th, and at Morrisville on Wednesday the 8th.
Raleigh, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the 9th, 10th, and 11th of December.

☞ Admission to the whole exhibition of Animals and Circus, 50 cents; children and servants half price.

All opposition at an end.

The hitherto unheard of combination of these two tremendous establishments is a new era in the history of the exhibition of and throws all of Barnum's speculations in the shade.

Circus and Wild Animals,

ROBINSON & ELDRED

have hitherto enjoyed the highest popularity and renown for the productions of the most superb feats of Horsemanship, by Master James, Master John, Madame Robinson, Mad'lle Henrietta, and the whole of their inimitable Troupe, as well as for the chasteness and decorum which ever characterised their arena performances. But in order more fully to satisfy their Southern patrons, they have effected a combination with the equally celebrated whose wonderful collection of Rare and Wild Animals is notorious as far surpassing any other in America.

The Great War Elephant BOLIVAR, the largest and best trained of all the sagacious monsters ever yet exhibited, is with this great combined

Southern Menagerie and Circus.

THE HUGE WHITE BEAR,

Weighing 1,500 pounds, and the only specimen now living in America, adds wonder to this superb collection.

Lions, Tigers. Zebras, Hyenas, Leopards, Apes, Monkeys, Ourang Outang.

Birds of different climes and species, and an endless variety of Animated Nature, will be exhibited to the delight and improvement of all who visit the canvass.

T. U. TIDMARSH, Agent.

☞ Doors open for Day performance, at 12½ o'clock, performance to commence at 1½. Night performance, doors open at 6, performance to commence at 6½.

TO MERCHANTS—IMPORTANT AND TRUE.

The fact, that merchants can supply their wants in their home markets, and thus save the trouble and expense of a northern trip, being fully established, the subscribers, in anticipation of a large demand for their popular Ready Made Clothing, have manufactured an unusually large stock, which, they may safely say, has never been surpassed, if it has been equalled, in the southern market.

Encouraged by the very liberal patronage hitherto received, and with largely increased facilities, we are determined to keep pace with the onward spirit of the age, and to use every honorable effort to deserve our share of the "public distribution." Merchants visiting Petersburg, whether dealing in Clothing or not, are invited to visit our WHOLESALE ROOMS, now stocked with every variety of Clothing, of our own manufacture, the most modern styles, and at New York prices.

The Huntress Sul-Malla!

Who moves so stately on Lumon, at the roar of the foamy waters? Her hair falls upon her heaving breast, white is her arm behind, as slow she bends the bow! Why dost thou wander in deserts, like a light through a cloudy field? The young Roes are panting by their secret rocks. Return thou daughter of Kings, the cloudy night is near!

It was the young branch of green Inishuna, Sul-Malla of blue eyes. She sent the bard from her rock to bid us to her feast. Amidst the song we sat down in Cluba's Echoing Hall; white moved the hands of Sul-Malla, on the trembling strings, half heard amidst the sound, was the name of the HOUSE OF COMMONS.

SATURDAY, Dec. 4th, 1852.

The unfinished business of yesterday, being the motion of Mr. Amis to reconsider the vote by which the free suffrage bill was made the special order for Monday next, was taken up, and the vote on reconsidering being a tie the Speaker voted in the affirmative, and the vote was reconsidered.

The Speaker decided that the bill was in order and Mr. Amis appealed from the decision.

Mr. Saunders, of Wake, rose and said:

MR. SPEAKER: Before the House proceeds to another ballot I beg to claim its indulgence until I offer a word of explanation personal to myself. When the balloting first commenced for U. S. Senator, I felt warranted in permitting my name to be used so long as the contest was confined to Democrats. I knew I had served my party long, warmly, consistently, faithfully—that I had stood by its cause in the darkest hour of its adversity as well as in the hour of victory; and I had the vanity to believe I had enjoyed the respect and confidence of the great body of the people so far, at least, as my own party was concerned. I also believed my election would have been acceptable to them, and that I was guilty of no vain arrogance in aspiring to this high position; but I am now satisfied I cannot be elected, and I am unwilling to continue the contest. To you, Mr. Speaker, and to such gentlemen of the Whig party as have voted for me, I shall ever feel truly grateful. To my friend from Haywood, who, of his own will, placed my name in nomination, and to my other Democratic friends I hope to be able to manifest my gratitude by my acts. I have to request that my name may be withdrawn—holding myself prepared to vote when I can see a prospect of making an election.

A communication was received from the president of the Cape Fear bank, showing the condition of said bank. Sent to Senate with proposition to print.

On motion of Mr. Wiley leave of absence was granted to Mr. Lockhart, of Northampton, until Friday next.

For the Standard.

MR. HOLDEN: This day has been a proud one for the Democracy of Bertie. For several years past the Whigs have ruled this county with a strong hand, and the Democrats have had to combat with strong odds. There was again for the Democrats in the recent election and triumphant majority in the country for Pierce and King, determined the Democracy of this county to meet this day to congratulate each other on the glorious result. And they did come. At least 400 Democrats, with a sprinkling of good natured Whigs, were seen assembled in the Court House, in Windsor to-day. The smiling face and jocund laugh told that "their spirits were up." At 1 o'clock Col. Asa Biggs commenced speaking, and in his wonted eloquence, spoke about an hour, while the repeated rapturous response and the sparkling eye indicated the pleasure of the hearers. A Whig who is fond of spouting poetry and who could not resist an interruption, was answered by the repetition of a song of a Whig singing his way up "Salt River," much to the amusement of the Democrats. The crowd then repaired to the Court House yard, and they were entertained with a good substantial dinner which Democrats know how to prepare and how to dispose of. After dinner Willie J. Gilliam, Esq., was called out and responded in a stirring and inspiring speech; the enthusiasm of the crowd was kept up by the merry fife and pealing drum. (The Whigs used to drum and fife before the election: the Democrats afterwards.) It was refreshing to hear the hearty congratulations of many who had been for years told by the Whigs that the Democrats were "dying out." There was no unkind taunt towards our opponents. Democrats know how to be magnanimous to a prostrate foe; and they act upon the reflection, that although the Whigs are our political adversaries and "very wrong," yet they are our countrymen. After night the illumination took place and for the number of houses at which lights were seen, the scene was beautiful. It was remarked at one house that but one upper chamber gave evidence that Democrats were there. It was the chamber of a Democratic lady whose husband was absent, (the balance of the house was Whig) and cheers long and loud were given for the fair occupant of that chamber. The hotel of the Messrs. Ferguson (from three to four hundred lights) were splendid; and too much praise cannot be given to these worthy and indefatigable Democrats, who, under all circumstances are found untiring in the Democratic cause. A torch light procession was formed, the cannon boomed, and Col. Biggs was again called out. He spoke of North Carolina now ascertained to have voted for Pierce and King, and cheer followed cheer for the old North State. The enthusiasm was high and the large company seemed determined to do and are now doing what Col. B. concluded with:

"We'll shout and sing,
For Pierce and King,
And make the very welkin ring."

One of the neighbors, a queer but sensible and excellent man, remarked to a company, that he could explain how it was that Gen. Scott came to be so beaten. All turned to him to hear, when he said, in a joking manner, that "it was because his nomination was made on the wrong time of the moon." Col. Biggs related this anecdote with great humor, and it caused the greatest and continuous laugh for some time, and is now very frequently repeated.

THE STANDARD.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 8, 1852.

FREE SUFFRAGE DEFEATED!

It will be seen, by our legislative proceedings of Friday, that on that day the Free Suffrage bill was defeated in the Senate. This was the work of fifteen Federalists and of the Speaker of that body, the Hon. Weldon N. Edwards. The vote stood thirty-three for the bill, and fifteen against it. The Constitution required that two-thirds of the whole representation in the Senate should sustain the bill in order to pass it; two-thirds of fifty—the whole number of Senators, the Speaker included—is thirty-four; consequently, the Speaker, in declining to vote, deliberately defeated the bill. If he had voted in the affirmative the bill would have passed; and so, if any one of these fifteen Federalists above-mentioned had voted in the affirmative, the bill would have passed, and equality between free white men at the polls would have become an established fact in North Carolina.

We have been thus particular in order that the people may know, accurately and fully, who are the men who are responsible for the rejection of this great measure.

This fundamental principle of free government has been passed upon thrice by the people of the State; and on two occasions they have approved it by signal and commanding majorities. Stronger than party, it has literally forced its way until thousands of Whigs have endorsed it even in opposition to their party interests; and at this hour, from the centre to all the extremities of this broad State, there are not twenty thousand voters out of ninety-five thousand, who will stand forth and declare it as their opinion that the measure is unjust, unwise, or hazardous to persons or property. And what, it may be asked by citizens of other States, is this measure? What is it that the masses so strongly demand, and which is so stubbornly refused by the distrustful and selfish few? Here it is—let the other States of the Confederacy hear and be astonished: Up to 1835 the Constitution of North Carolina provided for representation in the Assembly by Counties—that is, each County had a Senator and three Commoners, without regard to population or taxation. Under these circumstances it was deemed advisable that one branch of the Assembly should be chosen solely by the landholders, and every citizen who owned fifty acres of land and upwards, was privileged, as now, to vote for Senators, and no others were so privileged. Land, or in other words, territory, was then the only basis of representation; but in 1835 a Convention was held, the basis was changed to taxation in the Senate and population in the Commons, and the reason for this restriction upon suffrage—if reason it can be called—ceased to exist. Federeral population was provided for and protected in the amended Constitution, by basing upon it one hundred and twenty Commoners, and these Commoners were distributed among the Counties according to their population; and property of all kinds, land included, was provided for and protected by basing upon the taxes paid upon it fifty Senators. Still, from some cause or other, this restriction was not removed—it was not provided, as the people seek now to do, that all classes, as they are taxed, shall be permitted to vote at the polls for Senators as well as Commoners.

It is now proposed—not to change this basis—but to alter the Constitution so as to allow every free white man, who pays taxes, to vote for Senators. The landholders cannot suffer by this change, because they are protected in the basis, and because they are not required to part with their present privilege, but to share it with the non-landholders. As it is, they elect all these Senators themselves, and then throw into the Commons box nearly one half the votes which are cast for Commoners! Is this just? Is it right that they should have the exclusive control of one branch, and in addition to this, share with the non-landholders the privilege of voting for Commoners? No—no! Let justice, then, be done. Let the landholders either be restricted to one branch, or let all classes, non-landholders as well as landholders, be entitled to vote for Senators. But this is no time to argue the question. A great principle of free government has been outraged, trampled down, spurned from the Senate chamber by the arrogant and self-sufficient few; and that too, not merely against the earnest remonstrances of more than two-thirds of the non-landholders, but in opposition to the wishes, as the vote will show, of nearly two-thirds of the landholders themselves! The people are indignant—they demand sentence of condemnation against those who have defeated their just expectations, and not arguments.

The Free Suffrage bill, we are gratified to state, has been offered again in the Assembly, by those unfaltering champions of popular rights, Messrs. S. P. Hill and Berry; and we repeat the eloquent words of Mr. Hill, in offering this bill, "You may defeat this measure again and again; you may imagine you have buried it—but it will come forth again; it may be defeated, but not destroyed—it shall live, and not die!" We raise once more that glorious flag. Justice and equality of rights are the inspiring words which gleam from its ample folds; and triumph, though long delayed, SHALL crown the principle it represents. We repeat what we said a few weeks since, the people have demanded Free Suffrage, and THEY SHALL HAVE IT. But they must proportion the means to the end. They must see to it that they are not again baffled; and with this view it behooves them to organize and act in concert. It will be time enough, some months hence, to agree upon the means to be adopted. Meantime it is important that the measure should be still further discussed among the people, not merely on public occasions, but by the roadside, in the fields, and by the fireside. Let the flame be kindled and burn from man to man, from house to house, from neighborhood to neighborhood. Let those who have heretofore stood by this measure in good faith, be remembered as the advocates and champions of a noble principle; and let those who have opposed it and defeated it be commended to the support and confidence of those and those only who would retain an odious restriction upon the right of suffrage—who would make the possession of fifty acres of land a test of citizenship in a free country. The bill offered on Friday will doubtless pass the two Houses the present session by the three-fifths vote; and the contest in 1854 will, therefore, be waged directly for a two-thirds vote in the Assembly. When the hour for action arrives let each Free Suffrage man—whether non-landholder or landholder—be ready; and then, by the use of the proper means, victory will be compelled to our standard.

We know that, in this article, we have commented with freedom, if not severity, upon the action of a distinguished gentleman with whom it has been our pride and our pleasure heretofore to agree on all other public questions. We cast no imputations upon his integrity or his honesty. No doubt he has pursued the course which he thought it his duty to pursue as the Senator from Warren; but while we accord this to him—while we bear cheerful testimony to the weight and vigor of his intellect, to his chivalric sense of honor, and to the correctness of his opinions upon all other questions, and while we cherish all due respect for his long and important public services, we must be permitted at the same time to add that our duty must also be performed; and that we regard his action on the occasion referred to, as not only opposed to the deliberate and well-ascertained demands of a vast majority of the people of the State, but as at war with a fundamental principle of free government. We regret it, but we cannot help it. Was it not enough that fifteen Federalists should oppose that bill? Men die, but principles are immortal. We cannot stop to think of men, or to screen them, or to apologize for them when they put themselves in the way of a great principle; but we must ON, for truth, right, and the people will it, and we obey. We confess we have not counted the consequences, but we are prepared for them. We shall perform our duty, careless of consequences. This is our determination, now and hereafter. Were it otherwise, we should abandon our post with shame and mortification. As it is, here we stand, fixed in our purpose to perform our humble part in pressing this great measure over all opposition to its final triumph.

THE LEGISLATURE.

We refer our readers to our legislative columns for the proceedings of this body from Friday to Monday, inclusive.

The two Houses have voted some eleven times for Senator without making a choice. On Saturday Gen. Saunders rose in his place and made some remarks in relation to his position, and requested his friend Mr. Love to withdraw his name; which Mr. Love did, on Monday. On Monday the vote was a close one, Mr. Rayner having been agreed upon by the Whigs as their candidate. The Whigs united almost to a man on Mr. Rayner—on a gentleman who is understood not to be acceptable to all of them; yet Democrats are still refusing to vote for Mr. Dobbin, who is an orthodox Democrat, and who is entirely acceptable to his party.

Gen. Saunders, it is understood, will promptly cast his vote for Mr. Dobbin whenever it is ascertained his vote will elect him.

By the way, who is Mr. Rayner? What is he for? What is he against? What did he think of Gen. Scott? Did he vote for him? Did he vote for him cheerfully? Is he for Southern rights? If so, where is the proof? Is he to be sent to the Senate, and such men as Henry W. Miller repudiated and set aside? Where—oh! where, Mr. Gales, is the "gallant Miller"? Rayner "had no stomach for the fight"—Miller had; therefore Rayner is to be promoted and Miller put down!

We feel confident that if the Democrats will continue to stand firmly by Mr. Dobbin, he will be elected. This day (Tuesday) may decide the contest. All eyes are now turned to the seat of government. The people expect a Democrat to be chosen to the Senate; and if a Whig should slip in as the result of existing divisions, the feeling of disappointment and regret among the masses of the Democrats in all quarters, will be deep and lasting.

☞ The thanks of the people of the State are due to those members of the House of Commons, who sustained the Free Suffrage bill in that body; but they are especially due to those Senators who stood by it, for they represent the landholders, and are therefore directly responsible to those of that class who are opposed to the measure. Every Democratic Senator, with the exception of Mr. Edwards, voted for the bill; and six Whig Senators voted for it, making the thirty-three affirmative votes.

A REPUBLICAN "COAT OF ARMS." The committee in Boston who have in charge the building of a carriage (cost $1500) for Gen. Pierce, recently wrote to him, to ascertain his family coat of arms with a view of painting the same on the pannels. The reply of the General was excellent, viz: "The only coat of arms I ever knew my family to possess was my father's shirt sleeves when he fought at Bunker Hill."

☞ Congress assembled on Monday last. We are indebted to William White, Esq., the Postmaster at this place, for a copy of President Fillmore's Message, but have not had time to examine it attentively. We shall present a synopsis of it in our next.

We shall endeavor to keep our readers well posted up in the proceedings of Congress.

ELECTION OF COMPTROLLER. William J. Clarke, Esq., was, on Friday last, re-elected by the Legislature Comptroller of Public Accounts for the ensuing two years. Maj. Clarke has discharged the duties of his office, for the past two years, in a highly acceptable manner; and the vote he received on Friday must be gratifying to his numerous friends.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

We have before us the Report of Mr. Treasurer Courts, made to the present Legislature, for the fiscal year ending November 1st, 1852. We regret our lack of space to present this Report in full, but we give, as follows, the aggregate of receipts and disbursements.

The sum of receipts into the Treasury from the 31st October, 1850, to the 1st November, 1851, was $285,154 79; and the sum of receipts for the year ending October 31st, 1852, was $366,728 88—making for the two past years, $651,883 67. The sum total of disbursements for the first year was $366,342 70; and for the last year, $249,254 45—leaving balance in hands of the Public Treasurer on the 1st of November, 1852, of $36,286 46.

The Treasurer goes into an estimate of the receipts into the Treasury for the next two fiscal years; and also of the disbursements. The aggregate receipts are estimated at $464,714 92, and the disbursements at $451,688 20, leaving balance in favor of receipts of $13,026 72.

This Report is clear in its statements and well arranged; and the details of receipts and expenditures, as presented by the Treasurer, as well as his estimates for the next two years, and his remarks in explanation of his views, reflect much credit on him as a public officer. We give below, at length, the remarks with which Mr. Courts concludes his Report:

"In order to a clear understanding of a portion of the items which enter into the foregoing estimates, some explanation is necessary. In the first place, I have put down only that portion of the tax, collected by sheriffs, which belongs to the Public Fund. The tavern tax collected by them, is one of the numerous sources of the Literary Fund, none of which belong to this list, because the receipts into it are distributed as fast as they accumulate for the benefit of the Common Schools of the State. It is proper to remark, that the receipts into this fund are now being much increased by dividends from the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad Company. The last dividend of six per cent. on the stock held by the State in this company, will be received in a few days. And I have also excluded that portion of the tax collected by sheriffs for the Lunatic Asylum. You will receive from the commissioners of this asylum a detailed report of the progress of the building. There has been collected for its construction and paid into the Treasury in all, $80,572 26.

And there has been paid out on account of it, $49,689 84, leaving a balance still due that fund, of $30,882 42.

The Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, after having been long a drain upon the Treasury, at last promises soon to come to its relief. I think the estimate of $20,000 a year on the State's stock in it for 1853 and 1854, will be found to be a moderate one, because its business now, though the repairs upon it are not completed, is much larger than at any former period, and, because the Weldon and Gaston Railroad, which is designed to connect it with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, is expected to be completed about next January, thus connecting the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad directly with the ocean.

Moreover, this Weldon and Gaston Road, is, when constructed, to form a part of the Raleigh and Gaston Road, and therefore no separate estimate is made of the receipts from that road.

Since the last session of the General Assembly, the balance of the State's subscription to the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road Company has been paid off. The State now owns $120,000; that is three-fifths of the stock in it. This road is paying a handsome dividend into the Treasury.

The premium received on the State's bonds, sold to pay her subscription in aid of the road, and the dividends declared on her stock, exceed the amount of interest she has paid on the bonds thus issued.

From very recent information of the business the road is now doing, I think the estimate of the receipts from it is moderate enough.

Our claim on the General Government for advancements to our volunteers in the Mexican War, has been allowed, and, in answer to my inquiries at the proper department, I have been advised that the funds will be forwarded in a few days.

By an Act of the General Assembly of January 27th, 1840, the Treasurer was authorised to advance to the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, one-half of the sum estimated to be necessary, to form a connection between that Railroad and the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, whenever the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company should subscribe and expend the other half, and for this purpose the Treasurer was authorized either to issue bonds or to advance the money from the Treasury.

On the 9th of October last, regarding the condition as having been complied with, I advanced from the Treasury $15,000.

I preferred advancing the amount from the Treasury at the time, rather than issuing bonds, because of the large amount then standing to my credit in the banks; but it is proposed in these estimates to return that amount again to the Treasury, when, from its condition, it shall become necessary to issue bonds on account of the appropriation for this work. It is supposed that the whole amount the State will have to advance for this purpose, is $75,000.

So, by the fifty-first section of the same act, the Treasurer is authorised, when certain specified conditions are complied with, to advance, either by the sale of State bonds or the means in the Treasury, $65,000, for the improvement of Neuse and Tar Rivers.

Under this section, I have advanced, upon the warrants of the Governor, $12,411 33, on account of the Neuse river.

This amount it is proposed also to return to the Treasury, upon the sale of State bonds for this appropriation. My reason for adopting this course was, that while I did not suppose the Legislature expected so large an amount as the whole of these two appropriations to be advanced from the means in the Treasury, I, at the same time, did not suppose they expected the Treasurer to issue bonds and pay interest on them so long as the condition of the Treasury would enable him to meet calls for a portion of these appropriations.

These estimates are made on the assumption that bonds for these two sums of $75,000 and $65,000, as also of $500,000 for the North Carolina Railroad, will be issued on the 1st of January next, and $500,000 for the latter object, every six months, until 2,000,000 are issued for it, according to the act of 27th January, 1849: and interest is calculated on them accordingly; but this is done more out of safety, than from a conviction that calls for all these sums will be made that soon.

I have estimated the premium on these State bonds proposed to be sold, at the average rate at which I have sold the bonds that have been issued since I came into this office; but the amount of premiums that will in the end be obtained on them, will, I feel confident, depend very much upon the action of this Legislature in relation to the form of bonds to be issued, and also upon the point at which it shall be finally agreed to pay them, principal and interest. If the form heretofore used is adhered to—and the Treasurer has certainly no power to change it—for the act above mentioned, under which these issues are all to be made, expressly adopts the present form—then I think the large amount which we shall throw into the market will depress them below the rate here set down. Because, for such an amount, we must look mainly to bidders from abroad, as it hardly can be supposed that there is unemployed capital enough in the State to absorb them; and this form will not suit that description of bidders for the following reasons: Ours are what are called "Registered," as contradistinguished from "Coupon" Bonds. The Acts of Assembly, under which they are issued, require, in every case in which one of them is transferred after the first issue, that the party transferring it shall come to this office himself, or send an agent, with a power of attorney, to have the transfer entered upon the books of the office; and the Treasurer, after cancelling the old bond, issues a new one to the purchaser. So, also, as often as the interest is paid, which is semi-annually, it is the duty of the holder of the bond to give a receipt himself on the books of the office, or to do so by an agent, properly constituted as above.

These formalities so encumber the transfer of the bonds and the collection of interest on them, that, while they render them not so desirable, even for a home market, they constitute so serious an objection to persons at a distance, that many dealers in State stocks will not bid for them at all. I respectfully recommend therefore, that the form be changed so as to make them payable to — or bearer, with Coupons attached.

The bond being thus payable, can be transferred and converted into cash at once, without the troublesome and tardy process through which the parties have to go in every sale of our bonds as now issued; while each coupon, which expresses the semi-annual interest on the bond to which it is attached, is easily clipped off as the interest becomes due, and may be passed from hand to hand in any part of the world as easily as a bank bill. And this dispenses with the services of an agent to collect, receipt for, and transmit, at the same time avoiding all risk of loss by transmission or the faithlessness of agents.

Hence, such bonds are more sought after by those wanting to make permanent investments, than any other public securities.

Finally, what seems to be conclusive in favor of the change, is, that bonds like these bring in the market, a much better price than those of our present form, issued by the same State, bring. But, after all, if we would have our bonds enter into fair competition with those of other States of the Union, we should not only adopt this form, as they have done, but should, like the most of them, make our's payable where the parties purchasing prefer it, at some well known bank in the city of New York—the great monied mart of this continent, and with which Europeans have a free and direct intercourse. It is believed that most of the bonds of other States are purchased by Europeans, through their agents in this country. By this means, the holders of our bonds would find no difficulty in collecting either the interest or principal. I submit whether it would not be well enough also to pass an act giving the privilege to those holding our present bonds, to have them changed into this form, upon their surrendering the old ones, and paying a certain per cent. for it. These changes, if carried out by the Assembly, will increase for a time, very much, the labors of this office, but will, I think, in the end greatly simplify this branch of it.

It is to be borne in mind that these estimates are, of course, confined to the two fiscal years commencing first November, 1852, and ending 31st October, 1854, and yet it is important that this Legislature should be able to form, as far as practicable, so far in advance, a correct opinion of the receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year commencing the 1st November, 1854, and ending the 31st October, 1855; because, if the calls upon the Treasury for that year are expected to exceed its means, this Legislature can, if they prefer to do so, make provision by increased taxation, to aid the Treasury in that year; whereas, if this duty is devolved upon the next Assembly, no tax bill passed by them, under our system of laying the tax one year, and collecting it the next, can take effect soon enough to increase the revenue of that year. It is therefore proper to remark, that there will have to be paid in that year, $45,000 more, by way of interest on the State bonds, for the North Carolina Railroad, than there will be for that purpose in 1854. While the only probable increase of the revenue of that year, over that of 1854, would seem to be promised by our public works. What that increase will be, it is, in the present incomplete state of most of them, difficult to estimate with any reliable approach to accuracy. In case any additional appropriations are made by this General Assembly, I hope I shall be pardoned for recommending that provision be made to meet them by an increase of the revenue of the State, on account of the important bearing it may have upon the credit of the State bonds to be sold, as capitalists, especially those residing out of the State, will examine with scrutiny into the State's resources, and will not fail to enquire whether the policy of the State seems to be to borrow money to pay interest, which is the mere exchange of one creditor for another, or to prevent, by taxation, the accumulation, from year to year, of that description of debt. Still, I suppose you will deem it advisable, in order to provide for every contingency, and to preserve, in any event, the credit of the State, to give the Treasurer the usual authority to raise money, either by issuing bonds, or otherwise, not exceeding a certain amount, to meet any lawful demands upon the Treasury.

I have not included, in the list of estimated disbursements, the interest on $250,000 of Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad bonds, endorsed by the State, because of the promptness with which that company meets the payment of this interest. From this list, you will perceive that the debt of the State on which she is now paying interest, was, on the 1st of Nov. 1852, $1,228,235 14. And, from the same list, you will discover that the additional amount of debt authorized to be contracted under existing laws, is $2,140,000.

It will be seen, that I have sold since I came into the office in January 1851, $60,000 of State bonds, to pay off the balance of the State's subscription to the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road Company. And, also, $170,000 to meet the liabilities of the State generally. And, on the other hand, it will also be seen from the tabular statement, that, besides discharging the ordinary expenses of the State, including the interest upon her debt, the sum of $101,000 of the principal of her debt has been paid off, including $40,000 to the bank of Cape Fear, while a large amount has also been advanced in aid of some of the works in which she is engaged, to-wit: The navigation of the Cape Fear and Deep River, the construction of the Weldon and Gaston Railroad, the Geological survey of the State, turnpike roads, the navigation of the Neuse River, &c. These bonds were all advertised, inviting sealed proposals, and after the time for advertising had expired, the bids were opened in the presence of the Comptroller of the State and other gentlemen, and a record made of the whole proceeding, to which the attention of the Committee of Finance is invited. On each of the bonds sold, a premium was obtained, amounting in the aggregate, to $4,121 19.

I discovered upon my first sale of some bonds for the construction of the Plank Road in April, 1851, that the act authorizing their issue, unlike the other acts authorizing the issuing of State Bonds, was silent as to the transferable quality of these bonds. I recommend, therefore, that this act be so amended as to be made to conform to the other acts in this particular, for if the privilege be given to the present holders of these bonds, to change them as recommended in a former part of this report, some of them may not think proper to avail themselves of it.

I deem it my duty to bring to the attention of the Legislature, the fact, that the law in relation to land entries is liable to abuse as it exists.

The law allows any one to take up the vacant land of this State, at five cents per acre, provided he does not take up more than one hundred acres in any one year; but if he takes up more than that quantity, in any one year, then he is required to pay ten cents per acre into the treasury. This latter provision, it is believed, is often evaded, to the injury of the treasury, by the party, who wishes to appropriate to himself more than one hundred acres in one year, by his using the names of other persons, most generally those of his own family. In this way, much of the vacant land of the State is taken up at five cents per acre, in cases where the Legislature designed that ten cents should be paid, and that, too, when this land is increasing in value, by reason of our public works and other causes.

In October 1851, J. W. Patton, Esq., resigned the office of State director in the Buncombe Turnpike company, and by virtue of the authority in me vested, I appointed J. R. Osborne, Esq., of Buncombe, to fill his place.

All the sheriffs of the State have accounted for the tax due in 1851 and 1852, except the sheriff of Yancy, who failed to pay the amount due from his county in 1851. Judgment has been obtained upon his bond, but the proceeds have not yet reached this office.

The claim against the General Government, spoken of in a former part of this report, as forming a portion of the estimated receipts of the fiscal year, commencing the 1st Nov. 1852, has been received since the first instant, and will consequently appear in its proper place, in the next report from this office. I transmit herewith, such bank exhibits as have been forwarded to this office since the last session."

LARGE YIELD OF CORN. At the late fair in Princess Anne county, Va., Mr. Thomas M. Balentine, of Norfolk county, was awarded a premium for a crop of corn of 1,000 barrels, the product of the labor of five hands. The crop will yield $3000, or $500 to each hand. A prize was likewise awarded to David M. Walke, Jr., for the greatest product of corn to the acre—quantity raised being 71½ bushels

SUPREME COURT JUDGE.

On Friday last, as will be seen, by our legislative proceedings, the Hon. William H. Battle, at present a Judge of the Superior Court of Law and Equity, was elected to the Supreme Court bench to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Chief Justice Ruffin.

Judge Battle is well qualified for the post to which he has been called. He possesses a sound and clear intellect, is learned in the law, and patient and laborious in the discharge of his duties on the bench. That he will make an efficient, a useful, and an upright Judge there can be no doubt. His appointment cannot fail to give general satisfaction to the people of the State.

Judge Battle was elected upon the second vote. It is due both to Mr. Moore and Mr. Bryan to state that, on the second vote, a number of members of the Commons who had voted for them, seeing that Judge Battle was elected, changed their votes for him, before the result was announced, and hence their vote in the Commons on the second ballot, is much below what it otherwise would have been.

Harper & Brothers, of New York, it is said, have orders on their books for one hundred and six thousand copies of the December number of their Magazine. They print one hundred and ten thousand copies before "lifting the forms." Their monthly reprints of back numbers amount to nearly one hundred thousand copies! The profits of the Magazine are over $30,000 per annum.

We are indebted to the politeness of Mr. Pomeroy of this City, for the December number of this valuable periodical.

SILAS BURNS, [illegible] PROPRIETOR,

BUILDER OF

Steam Engines & General Machinist.

THE above establishment has been in successful operation about one year, and has turned out some of the best STEAM ENGINES and SAW MILLS that have ever operated in this or any other State.

Orders are solicited for Steam Engines and Saw Mills, Mill Gearing and Machinery of every discription to be completed during the Summer and Fall. The improved condition of the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road will enable me to fill with dispatch and punctuality all orders after the 1st of July.

The following certificate will show the character of the work executed at the above Works:

AUBRY, Cumberland, May 15, 1852.

Mr. SILAS BURNS,

Dear Sir: Our Engine and Mills, made at your shops, have been at work nearly two months, and fully meet our expectations. The ENGINE, as to FINISH and STRENGTH, PERFORMANCE and DURABILITY, is inferior to none in the State of the same class made here or elsewhere. The MILLS run with a smoothness and speed truly astonishing. In ordinary sawing we cut in a common sized log, 1 foot in 3½ seconds or 16 feet per minute. We have run, however, through an 18 feet log in 32 seconds or at the rate of 33 feet per minute, by running to the top speed we fully believe we can cut 40 feet per minute. The only objection we have heard urged is, it takes two many hands to haul up logs and carry away lumber. Yours, &c.,

JONES & BARBEE.

"Eagle Hotel," Chapel Hill, for Sale

THE Proprietress of this well known and profitable establishment, having realized a sufficient income to arrant her in resuming the quiet of a private life, offers to the public generally the opportunity of bidding for its advantages.

The citizens of the State are so well acquainted with the advantages of its position, that but few remarks are necessary to complete their information.

The Hotel itself possesses all the requirments of room and comfort, which its purchasers can desire. It has capacity for the accommodation of one hundred and fifty boarders, and the recent and rapid growth of the University, adjacent, makes it an easy matterto possess such or even a greater number of students.

In addition to this, the frequent travel through Chapel Hill gives the Hotel, (being the only one in the place) a transient custom equal to any in the State.

The lots and stables adjoining are extensive and commodious, and the country-market supplies abundantly and on profitable terms much of its provisions.

The terms of sale require one third of the price to be paid on taking possession. A note, with safe security and time of payment suited to the convenience of the purchaser, are the reasonable demands for the remainder.

If further information be desired concerning the inducements to purchase, the President of the University or any other resident of the village, will furnish it.

Possession can be obtained at any time, after the 1st of May. Apply to ANNE S. HILLIARD.

It is unnecessary to enumerate the articles of which our stock is composed; suffice it to say that in our rooms may be found every thing pertaining to men's wear, and furnishing goods of the most recent style and in great variety.

Our Custom Department,

Is constantly supplied with the most desirable goods, and those preferring their garments made to order, can here find a large assortment to select from, and with an efficient force of workmen we can get up a single garment or an entire suit at very short notice. A good fit and perfect satisfaction guarantied in every instance.
